GRACE CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

Contributions Made Sunday Covering
Entire Cost of Enlargement of Church

Anniversary services were held in Grace Methodist church on Sunday. Rev. Principal Riddell of Alberta College was the preacher of the day and was greeted by large audiences morning and evening.

Contributions were requested morning and evening for the new extension to be made to the church and resulted by the sum of $2000. This will more than meet the cost of the enlargement.

In his morning discourse Dr. Riddell said in part—

"In preference to choosing a text from which to preach this morning, I will give expression to thoughts which naturally gather around such an occasion. Israel felt and manifested a great joy at the completion of their temple. It was a great occasion, upon which they gave expression of thanksgiving for the great things God had done for them. An outlook upon that mighty host assembled about the temple, noting the ecstatic expressions of thanksgiving and praise might ask, 'What meaning has this? Why are they so grateful today and give such abundant expressions of thankfulness? Is it simply because they have builded a house, and that their wanderings are over? Or is there some hidden meaning behind this joy? This morning your hearts are glad. One year ago you opened this house of God, and one year previous to that a much smaller one was opened. I am pleased to come and join with you in thanksgiving to God, who in His mercy, love and power has helped you to accomplish so much. Why do I rejoice and feel thankful? Is it simply because you have a comfortable place to worship in? Do we rejoice in mere material success? The success that is measured by the size of the building, or the amount of money raised? Is there some deeper cause for rejoicing? I rejoice and presume you do too, not simply because of the building and the growth of the congregation, but that there is something behind all that. The greatest thing under heaven is a man. This church is here—what for? That when you come you may hear a good choir and a good preacher and be entertained? No! The purpose of the church is the economy of God is to uplift mankind. It is the men you uplift, the women you save and the lives you quicken that count, and as we realize the importance of this truth, man will be uplifted and re-instated in the place God intended him to occupy. Yet there are many obstacles to prevent man's uplifting. I rejoice in anything that tends to overcome these obstacles and lift man. I thank God for the privilege of driving over the prairie. There are men who drive over and never give anything but quiet sections and good land and bad land, but I see advancement and that which tends to uplift mankind. I see here a log cabin, there a school house, yonder a new post office. I never see a new school house but I want to have a dedication service. And when a railroad comes through a new section, instead of opening the bars and encourage drunkenness and rioting, as done here recently, I would hold a thanksgiving service. These things are instruments of divine origin to uplift man. They enlarge and quicken the soul to reach more and more to the plane God wishes him to occupy. Among the things that impede progress is isolation, and the coming of the school, the post office and the railroad, brings man into touch with the whole world. The boys and girls may inherit superstition, but the school puts them in touch with nature and they become familiar with God's plan. Superstition

LIVE STOCK INSURANCE

Pioneer Live Stock Indemnity Company Opens Offices in Edmonton and Calgary

B. F. McNaught, territorial manager for the Pioneer Live Stock Indemnity Co., of Seattle, Washington, is in the city today to open a branch of that company in Edmonton. This morning he registered with the provincial government taking out a certificate to do business in the province as a foreign company and premises will be secured and business opened up at once. W. F. White will take the Edmonton Agency and W. F. Coulson, formerly cashier of the Bank of Commerce at Anacortes, has resigned his position with that company to take the Calgary agency. Mr. McNaught will take the territorial agency.

The Pioneer Live Stock Indemnity Co. has been doing business as a live stock insurance company for fifteen years in the state of Washington, and now has branches in Idaho, British Columbia, Oregon, California and Utah, and is carrying millions in risks in these states and provinces.

The company insures live stock against accidental death of all kinds and against every disease except tuberculosis in cattle and glanders in horses. It will take the risks of live stock and cattle and horses on the farm or in the range. The premium ranges from 5 to 10 per cent. The Edmonton office will be opened up early next week and Mr. McNaught will make his permanent headquarters in the city. At present he is staying at the Windsor.

and I go on a ranch, because the school is dead to them. I thank God for schools, and for public school teachers. We are too often thankful for the schools and forgetful of the teacher. I would rather have a public school teacher than a public school, because if we have the teacher the school will soon follow. But why should we rejoice over the church? Some say all we need is the post office and school. They ask for the best papers and magazines. One contributor is in entire sympathy with the cause of education, but has no use whatever for the church. I would not despise education, and believe heartily in better post offices and means of travel, but mine that a being behind this mind cannot touch. We best of literature inclined to sin. John Stewart Milla, whose mind had been saturated with prejudice against the satiated, found that there was something lacking which his education would not supply and cried out earnestly for that one thing lacking. The church stands for the mighty forces which come into the inner life of man and set him free from the powers of sin and wickedness. A young man in Winnipeg who held a high social position and was among the best educated sought in a private interview with me, and in a burst of emotion declared himself a sinner, asking if there was any power that could save him. Could I tell him that could save a good man? If it comes up to the promises they do not have to worry much more about the financial question, as it is only a matter of grinding out the gold.

GOLD DISCOVERIES IN PEACE RIVER

Dominion Government Surveyors Believe they have Rival of the Rand or Homestake Country, Rock that Runs $32 to the Ton

The Dominion Government exploration party which arrived in the city yesterday, brings a story of gold discoveries in the Peace River country which if they answer to the surface indications, will put the Rand to shame and make the celebrated Homestake or Treddwell look like the proverbial thirty pieces of silver. The Peace River discoveries promise to furnish untold millions for people yet unborn; to establish a gold-mining industry on the prairie side of the mountains employing thousands of men and furnishing an immense market for Alberta products right at the doors of the farmers who will make their homes in the Peace.

Samples of the rock brought down by the party are of a peculiar nature. They are a slate shale, which by its appearance is evidently the solidified product of millions of years of deposits of mud in the river bed, brought down probably from the mountains ages and ages ago before primitive man had made his appearance on this sphere. Scattered through this rock are minute specks of gold. The crudest kind of assays, made with a mortar and mercury, gave values of $7 to $32 to the ton, but these tests are certainly unreliable and no mining man would accept them without making assays which would indicate anything like the real value of the rock.

The discoveries were made 37 miles below Fort St. John and 17 miles from the Alberta-British Columbia line.

The best description of the discoveries are furnished by Charlie York, brother of A. York, of the Edmonton Real Estate Co. Mr. York is not a mining man, but he gives a fair idea of what the find amounts to.

The gold-bearing rock, where it was discovered, is a bed of shale 200 to 300 feet thick, projecting out of the bank and overhanging the river. Above it is a gravel bed 300 or 400 feet thick and below it another gravel bed. The shale is an intermediate deposit. It is located in a big horseshoe bend in the hills forming an escarpment along the river, which came round in a half circle almost a mile back from the stream, as though the river at some time had swept right around the base of the hills and gradually worked to its present position, probably depositing the makings of the gold-bearing shale all the way across the flat making a territory thousands of acres in extent. The locators are at a loss to know how far the outcrop extends along the river, but they had no difficulty in finding room enough to locate 17 claims, one for every member of the party and one for several Mounted Police officers who were in the neighborhood at the time the discoveries were made. Mr. Macdonnell, chief of the survey party secured a whole sack full of samples which he brought out with him, intending to get a thoroughly reliable assay when he reaches Ottawa. The locators are not looking for any chance to sell their discovery, if it comes up to the promises they do not have to worry much more about the financial question, as it is only a matter of grinding out the gold.

man will be led towards God, and they will be led to think of the deeper things of their lives. What will this church be? Is God here? Do you feel Him in your hearts? Let us lift our hearts to Him, that He may come and bless it with His power. I trust you may get a church with magnificent walls, grand pipe organ, but let us remember it is men and women we want. We hearts and quicken their souls. I would rather see all here this morning rise on mass and say 'What must I do to be saved?' than to have you think alone of the material success of the church."

THE EXHIBITS FROM ALBERTA

Samples Received from Many Districts for the Dominion Fair Display

The collection of grains and grasses which are to be exhibited at Halifax this month is almost completed and will be shipped east on Thursday.

Mr. Thomas Daly has been employed by the department of agriculture to prepare the Edmonton district exhibit, and inspect the collections sent in from other districts. All the collections made from Red Deer north will come to Edmonton, and all south, will go to Calgary for shipment to Halifax.

Many of the districts have already sent their exhibits here, and these are to be seen at the warehouse of the G. E. West in Pl. men. Co. Express avenue. Those that arrived on Saturday were from Vermillion Valley, Vegreville, Fort Saskatchewan, Leduc and Pincher Creek.

The collections from the various districts show fine samples, but many have not been properly cured, and are in bad condition for shipment.

The Vegreville district exhibit consists of:

A sheaf of wheat from the binck, grown by Oral Cunningham, sample of Red Fife wheat, by F. Plock; sample fall wheat by Mr. Sandercock, fine sample; sample of flax, by Glen Dennis, fine sample; sample Tartar King oats, by Glen Dennis; sample Red Fife, by C. Ward, in fine condition; Alsike clover, too green for shipment; samples of oats, timothy and brome grass, not properly cured; specimen of brome grass, and native rye, by B. Tetreau in good condition; a sample of tobacco by Peter Svanekuzek, too green to ship with grain; a sample of two-rowed barley by Wm. Sill; cannot be beaten for quality, but is not properly cured.

The Pincher Creek collection is of good quality, but has not been properly cured, and the Pincher Creek board of trade has been asked to supplement it with further samples.

The Vermillion collection is also splendid quality and shows the farmers are interested in advertising their district, and have the goods to do it with.

This collection contains a sheaf of Assiniboia wheat which Dr. Saunders says is a poor variety and the most liable to smut of any grown in this country.

The Leduc exhibit contains samples by James Murdy and Chas. Wright which are good and in fair condition for shipment. This collection is not so varied or extensive as those from Vermillion and Vegreville.

The Fort Saskatchewan exhibit is small but of excellent quality and thoroughly cured.

The Edmonton collection prepared by Mr. Daly is certainly a splendid one both in the quality of the samples and the taste and care shown in preparation. Of course Mr. Daly has a long experience in preparing exhibition specimens having prepared exhibits that took first at the greatest fairs in the world for example Chicago and Paris, and he is well qualified to offer a few suggestions to farmers who in future may prepare exhibition samples. In conversation with the Bulletin on Saturday he stated that on the whole poor judgment was shown in packing the samples in tight boxes. Circulation is necessary and to effect this the box should be bored full of holes, or constructed of 4-inch boards set one inch apart. Careful curing is absolutely necessary in the preparation to prevent mildew developing during shipment in heated cars.

HOSPITAL SOCIETY
(Bulletin Special)

Strathcona, Sept. 3.—A meeting took place in the town hall on Saturday afternoon of the ladies of the town interested in hospital work. It was decided to form a society to be called the "Ladies' Hospital Aid Society," and the following office holders were appointed:—Hon. President, Mrs. A. C. Rutherford; President, Mrs. J. G. Tipton; 1st Vice President, Mrs. A. W. Tolt; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. N. D. Mills; Secretary, Mrs. S. Somersell; and Treasurer, Mrs. (Dr.) T. W. Crang. The society meets on Saturday afternoon when consultations and by-laws will be drawn up.

EARL GREY VISITS CITY

Party Spends Quiet Sunday in Edmonton and Take Auto Trip to St. Albert.

His Excellency, Earl Grey, Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada, and the vice-regal party, visited Edmonton on Sunday and Monday, spending a quiet twenty-four hours in and about the city.

His visit was in no respect a public affair and was without ostentation or display of any kind. In fact so quietly did they arrive that few in the city until late in the afternoon.

The Governor-General and suite were met at the station by members of the mounted police and escorted to All Saints' Episcopal church.

On arrival at the church, the vice-regal party were met at the door by Mr. Harold W. Riley, who conducted them up the main aisle to the front of the church, where seats for the party had previously been reserved. The service was conducted throughout by Rev. H. Allan Ray, M.A., who delivered a powerful sermon, taking his text from the 3rd Chapter of the second epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians and the 5th verse, "Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think anything as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God."

The party had lunch in their special train and in the afternoon were taken for an auto ride into the country via the St. Albert trail, where the Governor-General went to visit Bishop Le Gal, an old personal friend of his. Mayor May, Mr. Joseph Morris and Mr. W. I. Crafts, furnished the machines and conducted the party, among whom were Earl Ray, Lady Gray, Lady Evelyn Gray, Capt. Trotter, and D. D. Mann, of the vice-regal party and Hon. A. C. Rutherford, E. A. James, general manager of the Canadian Northern, Miss Jos. Morris, Mrs. Chas. Cross and Mrs. Judge Scott.

The evening was spent quietly in their own cars. Yesterday morning they visited Revillon's fur store and other points of interest about the city, leaving at 10.30 for Strathcona, making the trip across the Saskatchewan in automobiles. In Strathcona they made a brief stay, seeing the mayor, the premier and others, and then took their train again for the south.

In referring to his journey to Edmonton, Lord Grey remarked that he had travelled over a thousand miles of continuous garden soil, with hardly a pebble to be seen and every bit of which appeared to be adapted to profitable agriculture and for the establishment of healthy, happy homes. He doubted whether the experience, which it had been his great privilege to enjoy, had ever been shared by any Englishman who had not visited Canada. He was especially pleased at the large percentage of British settlers, who had been quick to realize and to take advantage of their opportunities, and he heartily congratulated Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Mann on the enterprise which they had shown in bringing this magnificent stretch of fertile territory within the reach of the would-be farmers of the world.

D. D. Mann, who was escorting the party over the lines of his company, when seen by the Bulletin, had nothing to say. This was not his time to talk, he said, as he was out on a holiday trip. He had nothing to give out in the railway line, except that everything looked prosperous with his company. He left for the east on Monday evening, his private car Athabasca, being attached to the regular train.

The special train in which the vice-regal party travelled consisted of the well-known Cornwall and York cars which were built especially for the Duke and Duchess of York on the occasion of their Canadian visit and which are now the private cars of the Governor-General, the car Fontenay, for the Governor's suite, a baggage car and D. D. Mann's private car Athabasca.

The Governor-General and his party visited Calgary today and will leave for British Columbia where the Earl will attend the Dominion Forestry convention, which is to be held in Victoria.

THE CHURCH IN THE MAKING OF A NATION

COLCHESTER FATALITY

English Lad Fatally Shot on Farm Nine Miles East of Strathcona

Strathcona, Sept. 4.—Special to the Bulletin—A shocking accident occurred at Colchester, nine miles east of Strathcona, as the result of which an unfortunate English boy, by the name of Gould, is dead and a young farmer named Wilde has surrendered himself to the authorities pending an investigation.

It was just subsequent to the McClinchey street affray, and while that irrepressible young man was having the wounds inflicted by Chief Patterson dressed at the city lock up that a smart looking and well dressed young man rushed up to the officers present and in a very excited manner stated that he had accidentally shot a young lad out at his farm that afternoon. He gave his name as Wilde and said that his farm was nine miles southeast of the town, in the Colchester settlement. He had been handling a couple of guns and had been cleaning them in the presence of a young lad who came out from England this spring. Unfortunately he had taken what he had thought was an empty gun, when to his horror the rifle which had been loaded went off and the contents struck the lad. Wilde immediately drove in all haste to Strathcona and informed the authorities and Dr. F. W. Craig immediately set out about ten o'clock for the scene of the accident. By the time he arrived there the boy was dead.

Large congregations attended at both services and were treated to vitalizing and eloquent addresses on both occasions. His address at the evening service on "the place of the church in the making of a nation" was one of the best public utterances ever given in this city. The address is here published in full.

Rev. J. A. MacDonald Delivered Two Eloquent Addresses in First Presbyterian Church on Sunday

Rev. James A. MacDonald, the managing editor of the Toronto Globe, preached in the First Presbyterian church, Edmonton, on Sunday, both morning and evening.

Mr. MacDonald and Mr. McQueen were classmates at Knox College nineteen years ago where they were associated as editors of the Knox College Monthly, and where Mr. MacDonald first received his training in newspaper work. He afterwards was managing editor of the "Westminster" which, under his management rose to the first rank among the church papers of Canada.

Large congregations attended at both services and were treated to vitalizing and eloquent addresses on both occasions. His address at the evening service on "the place of the church in the making of a nation" was one of the best public utterances ever given in this city. The address is here published in full.

COLLEGE CLASSES*RE-OPEN

Work of the Term Begins To-day at Alberta College.—Some Additions to the Teaching Staff.

Alberta college re-opened classes in the academic, music and elocution departments this morning at 9.

The fall session in short-hand, typewriting and book-keeping will begin on the same day at the same hour.

The evening classes begin at 7.30 on Tuesday evening and will continue throughout the autumn and winter on each Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. These classes are especially designed for students in short-hand, typewriting and book-keeping.

The classes in the Metric and undergraduate work will commence at 9 a.m., September 17th.

It is expected that the newly appointed members of the staff will arrive in Edmonton this week.

Miss Irving, P.A., the new lady principal will reach Edmonton on Tuesday.

Miss Mae Amble, the holder of a diploma from the Central Business College, Toronto, an experienced public school teacher and an office assistant will take Miss McKenney's place as teacher of stenography. This will make four teachers who give their attention to the commercial department exclusively. In addition to these the work is so arranged every student has his advantage of coming into contact with the teachers of the other departments. Mr. E. S. Bishop, B.A. has kindly consented to continue his lectures on commercial law.

The school is opening more helpfully than any preceding one.

BECAUSE FIT-REFORM CREATES AND MORE.
 Because Fit-Reform has the brain, as well as the mechanical skill, to perfect its creations.

Fit-Reform founded hand tailored garments, completely finished, in Canada. Fit-Reform demonstrated the possibilities of the ideal method of tailoring.

SPECIALISTS ON TAILORING

Fit-Reform was the first to adopt the specialist system of tailoring. Men were trained on one individual part of the work and they became adepts at it. Today, in the Fit-Reform workshops these specialists make every part of every garment—sleeves, collars, lapels, shaping shoulders, moulding canvas, all by hand. It is not too much to say that Fit-Reform tailoring corps is the most expert body of its kind in the Dominion.

Fit-Reform also originated the plan which gives to every man perfect fitting garments. To fit stout men, short stout men, tall men, slender men, as well as the average men. So exact is the Fit-Reform system—and so gradual the gradations from one physique to another—that it is an exaggeration to state that every man may be fitted exactly in Fit-Reform garments.

Suits and Overcoats are so constructed that, if by any chance, a slight alteration should be necessary, it can be made quickly and accurately. Fit-Reform garments are completely finished, for the purpose of enabling men to see if alterations are necessary.

FIT-REFORM ORIGINATED

the Wardrobe system, since copied and played-upon by so many Canadian imitators, a manufacturer in the United States going one better, by using the name "Fit-Reform."

One of the prime factors in the success with Fit-Reform has achieved is the high order of cloths, used in the garments. Quality and value are inseparable with Fit-Reform.

Fit-Reform, since its inception, has enjoyed a steady growth, and from its beginning, has been regarded as "THE MAKER" of high class garments for men in Canada.

LOOK FOR FIT-REFORM LABEL

Fit-Reform is sometimes confounded with those who play upon the name. The public should be on their guard when buying suits and overcoats, to make sure that they get Fit-Reform garments. The Fit-Reform label, with price, is in the left inner pocket of every genuine Fit-Reform garment.

THE C.P.R. CROSSINGS
QUESTION

The city council should lose no time in getting down to business on the question of the C.P.R. crossings. The preliminary bout occurred on Friday evening and came precariously near terminating in a manner decidedly favorable to the company. It ended, however, with about an even break and both sides are taking wind. The council should utilize the recess to frame up a definite policy regarding the streets in question. With such policy the council will be in a position to negotiate; without such policy they are only in a position to grant or to refuse to grant. Until a definite policy is adopted the council are in a purely passive condition and having no plan of its own can only concede or decline the plans of the company. This attitude might be a strong one if the matter in hand were less urgent. But it is not desirable that the company be unnecessarily hampered and delayed in establishing its yards and terminals. To do so is to hamper and delay the progress of the city and this the council cannot afford to do. The passive attitude must be abandoned for a definite proposition which will best conserve the interests of the city. The time to lay such proposition before the company is while the council has the power to prevent the company carrying out any other plan.

The problem which the council has to decide is whether or not the avenues between Jasper and the C.N.R. shall be closed. It makes no real difference in the case whether the avenues are closed or open in name if they are closed in fact, and the permission to cross them on the level means that they will be closed in fact. A street crossed by six parallel tracks on the level is sufficiently closed to divert traffic and the consequences to the community will be neither less nor of different character if the street be admitted to be closed than if it be claimed to be theoretically open. More than this the six tracks in question are but the first installment of the yard tracks which will be found necessary during the next few years. Before the company has even a railway into the city six parallel tracks are found necessary in the yards. How many more will be necessary when the bridge is completed the C. & E. line brought into the city, the station erected and the company placed in the same position as its competitor to bid for the city's trade? And how many more when the C.P.R. concludes that the time is ripe for extending the short line via Saskatoon and Wetaskiwin from Edmonton through central British Columbia to tide water? The city and the traffic are growing every year and will grow more rapidly in the future, and the company's yards must grow in proportion. Where six yard tracks are needed now twelve will be needed a year hence and in five years the block north of Jasper from Ninth to Thirtieth street should be paved with steel. If these tracks are laid on the level what difference will it make whether the avenues traversing this block are admitted "closed" or are called "open."

The difficulty might be postponed but it cannot be removed by the proposal to grant the privilege of making "temporary" crossings on the level, and the longer it was postponed the greater it would become. "Possession" is nine points of the law except when it is the possession of level crossings by a railway company and then the proposition is decimal nine points higher. Why "temporary" instead of permanent crossings? Only on the assumption that some day it will be desirable to abolish the level crossings either by sinking the tracks in subways or carrying them on elevated crossings. If this is likely to be desirable in future is it not desirable now? It is surely easier and cheaper to avoid a foreseen difficulty than to right matters after it has been encountered. It is easier to start right and keep right, than to begin wrong and get right. If the tracks are now laid on the level by permission from the council and some future council desires them lowered into subways or elevated on bridges there will be unnecessary expense incurred in the matter and that of no small amount. Who will bear this expense? The company? Not likely when the request for removal comes from the city. The whole history of the level crossing question is against the probability and it is not wise to challenge this experience. It is simpler, cheaper and in the long run will be more satisfactory to determine at once whether these avenues shall be closed or whether the tracks crossing them must cross on a different level from that of the streets. The city can now force the company to sink its tracks in subways by declining permission to establish level crossings but if this permission is given the history of a thousand cities is against the city being able to force the company to abandon the privilege and at its own expense establish different levels. The council now holds the power to solve the problem in the city's interests with a minimum of expense and inconvenience to all concerned and while it holds this power is the time to solve the problem. The question should be taken up courageously and in the broadest spirit, the interests both of the city at large and of the property holders more directly concerned should be considered, if necessary a vote of the ratepayers taken and a definite policy decided upon either to close the avenues in question or to maintain them open in fact as well as in name.

TOFIELD.

The residential part of the community continues to grow with the business portion.

Mrs. Rickard's new house is nearing completion.

Mr. H. Woods is building on his homestead. Mr. Woods, it is said, intends to conduct a stopping place for travellers on the base line. He is well situated for this, being a day's drive from Edmonton for loaded teams.

John Francis has secured a homestead twelve miles north of Islay on the C.N.R.

Miss Geddes and Mr. Smith of Edmonton were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lee of Anisk Creek.

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell special evangelist for the province of Alberta, is expected to conduct the Presbyterian services, upon the departure of Mr. Thorndale until the arrival of Mr. Bradley.

FLOATING STONE LAKE.

Mr. Wm. Waters, who got hurt by falling from a wagon two weeks ago is still confined to his bed.

Mrs. Charles Leonard, of Saddle Lake, gave birth to a baby girl on the twenty-third. Mother and little one are doing nicely.

Charles N. Johnston who has been working in Edmonton during the summer has returned home to make ready for winter on his homestead. Glad to see Charley's smiling countenance once more.

Charles Jackson has gone to Edmonton to be absent a month or six weeks.

Charles Greenstreet has gone to Island Lake to cut his oats and put up his hay.

Willie Batty, who has been helping Mr. Smith make hay at Island Lake made a short trip to Floating Stone on Tuesday.

Miss Urquhart, who has been visiting Miss Inez Batty at Saddle Lake, returned home to Edmonton on Saturday.

You may see boys going home now in the early morning or evening with a nice string of ducks.

For Family Colds

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.
It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.
It is safer, too.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shiloh's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. Once tried, every customer will try no other."—L. Elley, Nanaimo, B.C.
If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure, you get back all its cost. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that fair? Yes, it is the price. All dealers in medicine sell.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Maroons Ship

Leave This Morning for Edmonton.
Calumet Leads Pennant in Northern League

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—The last game of the season in the Copper-Northern league was played here yesterday, the Maroons defeating Fargo for two games, shutting out the Americans twice by scores of 3 to 0 and 2 to 0. The Maroons finish third in a close race Calumet landing the pennant, and Houghton coming second.

The Maroons leave today for Edmonton. Local fans express great interest in the western tour and there is much guessing as to what kind of a showing the Albertans will make when they meet the Maroons.

Fought Policeman

Pat McClintchey and Chief Patterson Have "Go" on Strathcona Streets. Citizens Refuse to Assist

A rather sensational termination to Labor Day festivities took place in Strathcona yesterday evening between six and seven o'clock.

The details to hand are somewhat meagre, but it appears that Pat McClintchey, the well-known pugilist, had indulged too freely in alcoholic beverages, after the lacrosse game between Strathcona and Edmonton in the Capital town, and therefore had returned with the crowd to Strathcona. McClintchey, it appears, had then entered the Strathcona house and had had some words with several parties.

On leaving the hotel, McClintchey had met Chief Constable Patterson on Whyte avenue, who quickly tried to persuade McClintchey to go home. McClintchey, however, became very abusive and threatening in his attitude and Patterson was ultimately compelled to arrest him.

McClintchey, who is a big, strong fellow, refused and both men got into grips and a regular scene took place, and blood flowed freely from both men. When McClintchey still remained obstinate Constable Patterson used his "billy," but McClintchey still fought. Several civilians were asked by Patterson in the king's name to assist him, but all refused point blank. After about half an hour's melee McClintchey was taken to the fire hall and lodged in a cell.

Constable Patterson had to get his left cheek stitched by Dr. E. W. Craig and later in the evening with the assistance of two of the R.N.W.M.P. McClintchey had his wounds dressed by Dr. Craig.

The affair created quite a sensation, as McClintchey is well known, and the trial will be watched with great interest. Several arrests, it is believed, will be made by means of persons who refused to assist the cause of the law.

Disastrous Race

James Boswell Thrown from Machine at Stonewall has been Fifteen Hours in Unconscious Condition

Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—James Boswell, of the firm of McCulloch & Boswell, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured during an automobile race for the Dunlop trophy. Four miles out from Stonewall he struck a piece of bad road. In taking the corner his rear wheel skidded and struck a stone which upset his machine. Boswell was pinned beneath. When dragged out he was unconscious. He was loaded into one of the other racing cars and brought to Winnipeg where two doctors are in attendance. After fifteen hours he is still unconscious, and there is fear that his skull has been fractured. Three years ago he was badly injured in a football game and partially paralyzed. Even if he comes to it may mean months before recovery.

Edmonton Rifle Club

Members of Eastern and Old Country Clubs Extended an Invitation to Join. Evening Shooting Discontinued

The following were the scores made in practice on Sept. 1st. A strong breeze was blowing most of the afternoon, necessitating more than the usual wind allowance. The day was, however, a very enjoyable one.

N. Bumpo	200	500	600	700
S. S. Brown	29	34	25	88
G. A. Reid	29	30	28	87
A. E. Seward	28	31	27	86
J. McDonald	23	29	21	73
J. V. E. Carpenter	20	24	21	65
	16	19	18	53

Those members who have rifles in their possession, should endeavor to attend more frequently, otherwise it will be necessary to relieve them of same, in order to have a sufficiency on the range during the usual practices.

There will be no more Tuesday and Thursday evening practice this season. Monday the 3rd inst., turned out wet in the afternoon, so that practice had to be discontinued about 3 p.m.

The best scores up to that time were

200	500	600	700
S. S. Brown	30	33	27
W. Barnhouse	27	26	20

Members of Old Country and Eastern Rifle clubs or volunteer corps are cordially invited to join the Edmonton Rifle club. Application should be made to the secretary on the range on Saturday afternoon.

Watson Easy

Had Twenty-Five Minutes Still to Go When Downs Nearly Broke His Spinal Column

With twenty-five minutes of his hour still to go, Watty Watson threw up the sponge at the Thistle Rink last night and Jack Downs keeps his hundred. Downs was too much for Watson altogether, and at the conclusion of the second bout the audience had some bad dreams, thinking that Downs was going to break Watson's neck.

The wrestling did not start until a late hour, owing to the Gans-Nelson fight returns, keeping a good many of the boys down town during the early evening. Kenny Blatford and Young Berg wrestled fifty minutes without a fall as a prelude, and their exhibition attracted as much attention as the main event. Blatford showed up better in the match than he has ever done before, and it must have astonished Berg somewhat to discover a ten-foot tall man who could give him his hands full.

The Down-Watson go was a case of roughing it from the jump. Before they were at it 15 minutes, Downs had Watson up in the air, slapping and eluding as though he wanted to turn it into a fight. Downs took it and smiled. At the end of twenty minutes he forced Watson to the mat by main strength, after a resistance which called on Watson for all he had.

The second fall lasted five minutes and a half. Downs made it bad for Watson all the way through. There certainly was no love lost in that event. At the end of the time Downs had a double Nelson that got Watson for fair.

There was no more wrestling. A medical examination revealed Watson's fears that his neck had been badly strained and the bout was called off. It will probably be some time before Watson will go on either the ball-field or the mat again.

S'cona By 10 To 2

Labor Day Game Ends in Easy Thing for Lacrosse Men Across the Way

The Strathcona lacrosse team took the Edmonton boys into camp on Labor Day to the tune of 10 to 2 and incidentally won the much coveted local trophy. But the play was not nearly so one-sided as the score would indicate on and individual work the boys in all along the line. But the Strathconas outgeneraled them and besides had all the luck. Everything they shot went in, while McArthur in the nets for Strathcona was almost impassable.

It was very late when the game started and the delay was inexcusable in that it was necessitated by the non-appearance of some Edmonton men. Banford who was expected to play point did not show up, and Scott another defence man turned his foot so badly before the game started that he was unable to play effectively.

In the first quarter Strathcona got four goals on easy shots, while Edmonton could not get in close enough to score. In the second they got two more, with Edmonton playing all around the Strathcona defence, but unable to locate the nets. In the third Strathcona scored three times in rapid succession and then started in to play a defence game.

Harris scored twice for Edmonton in the last quarter from scrimmages in front of goal. Edmonton was now coming strong but it was too late and so the game ended 10-2 in favor of Strathcona.

Goals were scored for Strathcona in the first quarter by Horribin 1 minute 30 seconds; Perey Main 8 minutes; Hampton, 4 minutes; Elliot 30 seconds; P. Main one minute 30 seconds.

Second quarter—N. Elliot 7 minutes; P. Main 1 minute. Third quarter—Horribin, 30 seconds; McCullough, 7 minutes 30 seconds; Horribin 1 minute. Edmonton—Harris 9 minutes 30 seconds; Harris, 10 minutes.

The following players were penalized: McCullough, P. Main, N. Main 4 times; Bolander, Anderson, Leask.

The teams were:

Strathcona	Edmonton.
McArthur	Goal
Campbell	Point
Cameron	Cover
Richards	Defence
N. Main	Leask
Bi sett	Bristow
McClintchey	Centre
McCullough	Home
Elliot	Glass

Champion Gans

Victim of Greatest Lightweight Ring Battle in History of American Prize Ring

Goldfields, Nev., Sept. 4.—(Special to the Bulletin)—The greatest lightweight fight in the history of the American prize ring is over, bet is being paid, the big arena is deserted and the sports who gathered from every state in the republic are scattering to their homes. Nelson is probably the worst battered man in America. One eye is altogether closed and he is nearly blind. His flesh is cut to ribbons and parts of his neck, shoulders and body are more like raw beef than human flesh. Gans simply slaughtered him. The negro had had the Dane at his mercy for many rounds before the fight terminated. He out-generaled him, out-fought him and out-lived him. It was becoming a case of how long Nelson could stand the rain of blows and retain consciousness. Whether the eventual foul in the 43rd which gave the fight to the negro was intentional, or whether Nelson was dazed and wild, fighting at random will probably never be known. Many in Goldfields cling to the belief that the Dane was all in, knew it, and took this method of finishing the fight.

Siler's refereeing has been universally satisfactory. Some contend that Nelson's boring in tactics should have been stopped and that one warning to the Dane to stop using his head in the fight should have been all permitted to him, but as the result would not have altered this phase is being forgotten.

The moving picture man got a great show at the early part of the game, but as the last few rounds took place after sunset the effect will probably not be so good.

The people who predicted yesterday that Gans was going to fake the fight are being laughed at today, and for once the sporting element, who universally chose Gans, were right and got inside the money.

The returns of the big fight were received in Edmonton with great interest. As they were handled by the Postal, around by Chicago, they did not commence to reach the city until in a world of men is the Church worth while? Were the Church closed, and were all its agencies and enterprises done away, would any of the large and enduring interests of life suffer real and irremediable loss? As a factor in a country's development what are the opportunities and what the needs of the Church?

The Church in the Making of a Nation

These are some of the questions which press home upon one who moves about from place to place and thinks seriously over the problems and prospects of this Canadian nation. I should like to have you think seriously about these questions. You men and women of Edmonton, at this day in the history of your capital city of this new province, it is for you to do something more than to make money for yourselves or even to save your own souls for an after-world. You have a city whose chief life is in your hands and you have a share in the making of this new nation of Canada. It is for you to care for your city's good name, and for the worth and strength of your national life. For this reason you should be concerned about the factors and agencies which touch and mould public opinion. I would therefore have you seek to establish in your own minds some vital relation between your church activities and those public elements which make a city great and a nation strong.

THE CONDITIONS OF NATION-MAKING IN CANADA.

The nation-making, with which we have to do is carried on within the four corners of the Canadian Dominion, and the Church about which we are concerned is the Canadian Church. I would therefore have you consider some of the conditions under which the Church operates in Canada and some of the elements entering into Canadian nation-making.

THE PEOPLE RULE.

Most important is the fundamental political fact that Canada is a democracy. In this country the power is with the people. We have a King, and in no part of His Majesty's dominions can more lusty loyalty be found than in Canada, but the authority of the throne is "broad-based upon the people's will." Our free parliaments are under the constitutional representatives of the Crown, but the power which energizes the whole machinery of the Canadian commonwealth is not that which comes downward from the Crown, but that which comes upward from the people. The seat of authority in the Parliament of Canada is not the dictum of the Monarch, but the will of the People. Whether we approve it or not democracy is here and is here to stay. The supreme right to rule is with the People, Demos King.

That fact of a wide and almost universal manhood franchise carries with it grave dangers as well as high privileges. The danger is that the right to vote may not involve or assure the personal interest, the personal intelligence and the personal conviction which the vote should represent. The danger is—as the fact too often is—that the informed, the honest, and the capable, may be so absorbed in personal pleasure or personal gain, or may cultivate an aversion for public affairs, so that undue and dangerous opportunity is put into the hands of the self-seeking and corrupt. Democracy, certainly, and Democracy Triumphant! But that man knows nothing of history or of the currents of modern life who dreams of the real triumph of democracy apart from the sober and thorough education of the great mass principles of responsible government and in the absolute moral obligations of Canadian citizenship. In an un-informed and undisciplined democracy there is danger ahead alike for Church and for State.

THE MATERIAL WEALTH.

A second fact of serious import in Canada at this moment is the pronounced tendency to estimate worth in national, in civic, and in individual life by standards that are accidental, external, materialistic. This tendency need surprise no thoughtful observer, for on every hand we hear about the material wealth and the natural opportunities of this half continent. The things most talked about are wheat, timber, ore, electric power, and corner lots. Real estate is more absorbing, even in social circles, than afternoon teas or bridge whist.

Now let no man talk loftily or of our heterogeneous electorate in the sneeringly of the physical elements in the Canadian situation. It is significant that at this date in the world's progress Canada emerges into the world-light and offers a rare chance for enterprise and capacity and devotion to any line of industry. There are elements of natural strength and opportunities for national greatness in these unmatched natural resources of the Province of Canada. The man is a fool or an atheist who sees no worth in these material features of our Canadian situation. But let us be wise. Let us be warned. The danger is that these material things will be given first thought and first place. Were that done the light would already have settled on Canada's national greatness, and the very wealth of our resources would have weight to drag us down. First things first, or neither man nor city nor nation can come to character or greatness or power.

THE PLACE OF THE CHURCH IN THE MAKING OF THE NATION.

MORALS IN BUSINESS. Another conspicuous fact in the Canadian situation is the low and weak moral tone in large sections of the business and political world. It is the veriest commonplace to hear people talk glibly of corruption and graft and malfeasance in politics. Let that pass as a commonplace. But what about the revelations in business and financial and industrial circles? There are combines in trade not only contrary to law but unjust and dishonest. There are restrictions in labor that afflict both employer and employee. There are manipulations of trust and insurance funds that on their face are not easily distinguished from penitentiary crime. The brand "Packed in Canada" does not always command confidence for Canadian exports in British markets. There is scarcely an article of our daily food or a garment of our daily wear that does not run the risk of being involved in some exposure of trade dishonesty or factory uncleanness. Those ugly and significant facts of everyday observation must be taken into account not only by Parliament but by the Church.

DISHONESTY IN TRADE. Swinging to the opposite pole of life there is danger almost as hurtful as corruption in politics or dishonesty in trade. I mean the reckless, hysterical, and often untruthful allegations of wrongdoing made against public men and public bodies by people who have only selfish or sensational ends in view. The "literature of exposure" has during the past year become a disease, and has run into violent and morbid emotionalism. Without discrimination, without knowledge, without regard for truth or honor or the restraints of conscience, men feel free to assail the capacity and character of private citizens and of public officials, and to do their utmost to inflame public opinion into a confused and seasonless hysteria that if unchecked would under mine public confidence and react damagingly on public life.

Mind you, I make no plea for kid-gloved lavender-scented handling of corporate or political crime. Offence should be given short shrift. But the danger of which I now speak is from wholesale, unjust and sensational criticism of public officials and public men. It has come to this in the United States, and it is coming to it in Canada, that men of high personal honor shrink from public service because they know that neither truth nor decency will save them from the assaults of slander and from the poisoned lampoon. Scarcely a man enters Parliament, scarcely an appointment is ever made by any Government, Federal or Provincial, but some brazen voice cries corruption and graft from the housetops.

Let public opinion be kept strong, let the public conscience be kept sensitive, let the unwinning eye of the press be turned full and straight on public affairs, but the man with the muck-rake, the man who shuts his eyes to truth and honor and a square deal, and sees nothing but the unclean gatherings of his own diseased imagination, is a public nuisance; and the mock-hero who everlastingly struts and months and shrieks in the limelight has neither part nor lot in the high and serious business of industrial or political reform.

These are some of the significant facts involved in the Canadian situation and which must not be minimized or obscured or put by, if we would at all care for the good estate of the Canadian nation. Let me now turn to another aspect of my subject.

THE RELATION OF THE CHURCH TO THE CANADIAN SITUATION. The Church, unquestionably has a work, a chance, a distinct obligation, in relation to public life and national progress in Canada to-day. The business of the Church is not merely or even mainly to get a number of Canadians into heaven when they die, but to get heaven and heavenly life into Canada and into Canadians while they live. My own faith is that the heaven of another world will not be missed or lost at the last if in this world and now men are helped to live the clean, useful, heaven-touched life in their homes and offices and shops and unions and clubs, and to be pure and straight in their secret lives.

And in the awakening and stimulating and ennobling of individual life, or in the elevating and organizing and directing of national issues I know of no agency with a larger chance or a heavier obligation or a more efficient equipment than the Canadian Church with its multiplied agencies.

There are other agencies of large public service and reform which must not be neglected or undervalued. There is the school with its uncounted opportunities from the kindergarten to the university, and the national worth of our educational institutions is not yet appreciated. There is the press with its myriad voices going out into all the land, the university of the common people, more potent for good or for ill than Parliament itself, and the opportunities and obligations of the press need just estimation. There are various organizations of labor and of trade and of society and of politics, each in its own way an organ and an educator of public opinion. These all count, and should count more largely in making of the nation.

But in some respects, and in the deeper and more dominating regions, the Church has the chance and the obligation of being more influential and more far-reaching than any other, or perhaps than all other, social institutions. Think for one moment of some of the distinctive features and facilities which belong to the Church's equipment:

1. The Church is the most widely spread institution in Canada, its organizations and agencies extend over the whole land and penetrate the remotest corners from Newfoundland to the Yukon.

2. The Church is a social institution, without distinction of party or class or occupation in its creed or organizing idea, and it makes its appeal to all alike.

3. The message of the Church is directly to the individual, to the conscience and heart, and it insists on self control, self development, self sacrifice.

4. The ideal of the Church is not a saved individual but a regenerated social order, a redeemed humanity, a kingdom composed of all classes and in which dwell righteousness and truth and love.

5. The appeal of the Church goes straight to the root of all the evil in society and business and politics—the selfishness and sin of the individual.

6. The Church, more than any other institution, puts the moral emphasis where it belongs. In its creed morality is not an affair of times or places or persons. In the geography of the Church there is no place or condition where the obligations of truth and honor do not hold, no free-and-easy moral region.

"Somewhere east of Sneez Where the best is as the worst. And there aren't no Ten Commandments."

7. The Church is not only clear in its teaching as to moral distinctions but it is explicit and emphatic in its views as to moral relations and moral retributions. In the staid tones of the creed of the Church asserts the absolute difference between right and wrong in business, in politics, in private choices and in public action. And it lays plain the inevitable and indissoluble relation between cause and effect in the life of the individual and of the political party and of the nation.

8. Unique among the equipments of the Church for the service of men and the betterment of life is the redemptive power of a Divine Personality, with the Atonement and Example and spiritual dynamic which make up the Christian evangel. All these qualities and forms belong to the Christian Church, and if at any time or in any place there is weakness or failure it is because the Church is living below its privileges or is neglecting or misusing its powers. And by these ministries, by the prestige of its history and by the prerogatives of its high service, the Church is equipped for being the sanest, the truest, the most vital power, making for national greatness the life of the Canadian Dominion can show.

THE NEEDS OF THE CHURCH IN VIEW OF ITS OBLIGATIONS. If all this I have been saying is true—this about the nation's needs and this about the Church's obligations—then two or three other things follow in an absolute and imperative sequence.

1. The importance, the supreme necessity, of leadership, informed, courageous, and far-seeing leadership in the Church. Not only is there needed the few outstanding leaders in the van of the Church's movements, but in every congregation, are needed those endowed and disciplined for organizing and directing the opinion and life of the local Church along large and useful lines. The call is loud for men in the ministry who can see the larger opportunities and can lead in the larger issues. There is no more inviting shape of usefulness for men of adequate equipment and right motive and competent power than in the ministry of the Church in Canada. There is no more serious charge resting upon all branches of the church than securing a ministry trained and fitted for the needs of the country. And above all other needs is the need of intelligent, steady, alert leadership.

2. Another need is or renewed and unflinching devotion to the ordinary and routine work of the church on the part of the rank and file of the membership. There is a constant temptation and a persistent tendency to sag in all regular congregational work. There is needed the far vision and the profound conviction that in the long run it is the regular work faithfully done, in the various departments and organizations, that counts in the church and in the expression of the church on the life of the world. It is not the spasms of activity, it is not the show pieces done on parade, that give efficiency and authority and power to the church. The enduring strength of the church is in the fidelity of the average member to the everyday duties and obligations.

3. A third and a stupendous need is for a clear and vitalizing sense on the part of the church of its own national relationships and national responsibilities. Every truly great church is a national church. And no church is not the agreed platform of any part or the compromise creed of any school, or the mandate of any vote. Leaders in politics or in labor or in social reform dare not go far beyond the average opinion of those they lead, but the church, when it speaks, whether it be to kings or to crowds, heralds a message whose sanction is not the will of the people but the voice of God.

So, too, the church must keep steady in view the sublime fact that its realm is not in the things of life, not in numbers or in money or in social prestige but in the things of the spirit, the things that make for purity and righteousness and truth.

Come, then, you men who profess love for your country. If you are indeed honest in your patriotism and pure in your lives the church can find use for your talent and can find channels for your power. Whatever your gift this materialist age can use, give it largest scope. And the truth committed to the church will through your vitalized personality touch the life of your city to higher issues and will help to make great the life of your land. So shall the little one become a thousand and the small one a strong nation. And may the God of nations hasten it in His time.

—The new pipe organ for All Saints church has arrived and will be installed in a few weeks.

—Miss Margaret Clarke, of the Education, left on Sunday for a three weeks' visit to Calgary.

—Miss Alberta Chawin, of the Attorney General's department, left this morning to spend the week end at Fort Saskatchewan.

—Miss Beattie Phillips returned from the coast yesterday. She resumed her classes today. Studio Fifth street west.

—Gervase Phillips, accompanist, returned from the coast yesterday. He resumed his classes today. Studio Second street, opposite rink.

—The Imperial Order of The Daughters of the Empire of "Westward Ho" chapter will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Watt, Norwood block, Wednesday, Sept. 5th at the hour of 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

—Mr. Morgan, the manager of the Ames Holden Wholesale Books and Shoes branch that the company has established in Edmonton, arrived in Edmonton Friday night. In a few weeks the company's warehouse on Third street will be finished, a full stock put in and travellers put on the road.

—W. G. Proulx, acting mayor of Montreal, along with Clovis Laporte, Damien Latimier, and E. G. Dagenais, M. D., also of Montreal, are guests at the Alberta and were taken for a run about the city today by Mayor May in his automobile.

—A party consisting of Messrs. H. B. Clifford, W. G. Rennie, and T. M. Hadwell, left this morning for the Peace River. Mr. Clifford came down from Dunvegan a few weeks ago, and the other two gentlemen who come from Montana, are setting out on a prospecting tour.

—F. S. Stewart, of Enn, Ont., who has been in the city for a few days, has become impressed with the desirability of this city as a field of investment and has made some important deals in real estate on Nanny and In Norwood.

—His Lordship Bishop Montgomery, secretary of the Venerable Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, will visit Edmonton on Tuesday next and will be met here by the Bishops of Saskatchewan, Calgary and Athabasca. Bishop Montgomery will preach at the festival service (full choral) on Tuesday evening in All Saints church. After the service the ladies of the congregation will tender a reception to the visiting bishops.

—A very satisfactory test of the city's waterworks system was made by the fire brigade in consequence of a request from the manager of the power house. The test was made from the hydrants at the corner of Third, Fourth, and Fifth streets. Two hose were attached to each hydrant and six streams were sent up at once—three from one-inch nozzles, and three from three-quarter-inch nozzles. According to Mayor May's estimate the pressure was sufficient to send the water 25 feet above the Hudson's Bay stores.

—Mr. A. Mitchell chief weed inspector for the province returned last night from Banff where he had gone to investigate a rumor that stink weed had been found in the Canadian National Park. Considerable quantities of this noxious weed were observed by Mr. Mitchell in the mountains and along streams flowing into the Bow River. Arrangements have been made with the superintendent of the park to cope with the nuisance at once. There is great danger of the weed becoming very wide spread for the water of these streams is soon to be used for irrigation purposes. Ball mustard was also found in large quantities.

BUILDINGS UNDER WAY

The building for the month of August according to the figures given out by the building inspector this morning, totalled $212,165. This brings the total for the year up to $1,225,596.

A number of buildings that have been under construction for some time past are nearing completion.

The carpenters have finished their work on the New Castle Hotel. The Hotel Cecil is being rushed for the opening on September 1st.

The masons have finished the brick work on the King Edward which presents a splendid appearance.

Mr. R. J. Manson will soon finish his contract on the Ames Holden warehouse.

Contractor O. Meault has just finished a two story warehouse on 4th street for Mr. LeChambre of Revelton's. Messrs. Ker & Rattenbury have been delayed some time now in the erection of a large business block on the corner of Jasper and Second, but workmen have again been engaged upon it and the firm hopes to have it ready by October 1st.

Contractor J. Copp is nearing the completion of a new store on Jasper avenue, for A. Cristal, immediately east of the Hamilton block.

The new offices of the Traders Bank west of Garipey & Lessard will be opened in a few days.

Other important buildings under construction are the new block on Jasper by McDougall & Secord and the Imperial Bank, corner of McDougall and Jasper, which will be the finest Bank block in the city when finished.

S. P. G. MEETING TO-NIGHT

This evening the Rt. Rev. Bishop Montgomery, secretary of the society for the propagation of the Gospel will address the congregation of All Saint's church. The Bishop has travelled all over the world and is familiar with missionary work where it is carried on. He was born in India and has lived in Australia and Tasmania.

It is especially fitting that a large audience should greet his Lordship, as the society he represents has been working in Canada since 1769, and has spent $1,000,000 in aid of the Anglican church in Canada. The congregation of All Saint's was liberally supported by the fund of the S.P.G. in its early days. This year the society will apportion $25,000 among the bishops of Western Canada to be spent in spreading the gospel.

Examine the Label.

Paste diamonds look pretty to the casual look. The test is a scratch, and the fraud is exposed.

There are transparent imitations of the genuine Semi-ready. Ten days' wear is the test which usually lays bare the weak points of the imitation coat.

Your guarantee that it is the real "Semi-ready" is the label and the price on the inside. The trade mark is your protective warranty.

"Semi-ready" tailoring has given to gentlemen who dress well their first freedom from the irritating waits of the old-time custom tailoring methods.

We have in Worsteds Suits—real "Semi-ready" Suits—some at $20 that are worth more. Men's Spring Fashion Book—free.
